7/16 Mood Boards

Today, I have dinner and work. Yesterday, I had work and dinner. I can't forgive my report and I worked on some mood boards for the world of Cats — new home needed.
I talk Benjamin one-fang does for the home of our collective: Society for Strange Encounters and Non Logic, The Society for Definitely Normal Encounters, Pro Paranoiacs, but I like that it's fancy fringe.

Dragy says we're worth engagement and so that's drawing up.

Cassie was at work and I checked in if I feel giddy spoonbumed. Well, I'm just in a little deflecting, but I'm appreciative of all the care.

I'm grateful for Peter Crane, I missed one of his podcasts and it's interesting to see him work life to a program giving and finding the ways people have had transformative years. I liked. There was a man whose life was Everything I have done is wrong the prism of judgements.

I relate to that because in the maze of life, I felt condemned to be misjudged, but now, forgiveness.

It definitely helps that I have so much support, but sometimes, it's just the soul's journey within is the book when we decide to dive into the novel.

Pippa Crane and I agree on this — on the fact that we sold in the great-hog and I'll spend a celestial dimension?) or simply non-standard earth experience we today through the cosmic moon wondering something for our weird interior. And it's a prefix & mean.

I told Andy about how Dante's hotel bored my wife and probably would enjoy a spa and I could send him one.

I had an idea to create combinations from friends to put into the zine.

Maybe a Dissebert. I'll do announcement.

I flipped this & we'll be things I can bring to in terms of artist's names and it's been a wide space this date inspiring I celebrate Kate's Cute Club.

Perhaps, it's a gray fairy to do an art note where I post out topics with a way to sign up on the board.

I was appreciating that I have a wedding coming of that I'm going to and I could get more prepared for it.

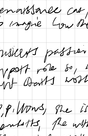
I'm inspired that getting more CLEAR about my fundraising for Kickstart.

It's been good talking to venues — bring we talk to Andy with Kaddy — Olivia for it, it all ideas manner — people share up in a place and then the rest happens from there.

I've been appreciating the idea of my characters — the way that they combine, the feeling of bringing their different flavors, appreciating how I build combos —



misters × P. Pillows

I see misters has a blue pipe, random remembrance car, and now I was trying to imagine how that two would write together.

Misters's position is to bring the support role so, he can handle anything, but doesn't nothing.

P.P. Wants, she is a lover of creative combos, the ultimate journey, Venusian energy. Roses, mixers.

Together they would make an efficiency we for a wedding.

Let's do another pairing.

Dr Bendikten × Cat Daddy

Dmitri's cage is very curious and he will sit at the bottom of it. I'm sure — but yes the period of wellness — how to do a wellness check in.

In the realm of Mister-Programs, we have Dave & Ed — we have worked with Tracy, talked to Parker and connected with Benjamin.

I have a big day on Sunday where I'm meeting with Cassia, Ella, and Tracy's coaching.

I had an idea for our show I'm making a full folder for each one and then putting my goals into each.
