

7/15 Megan Report

To day it Wednesday, I have work, then dinner

Yesterday, I had work, then Kirganes.

I worked with the characters more and I am intrigued about making a mood board.

Dear Megan - the notes related to 9 characters is a new exploration -

A part of the work is to try to connect it to the cleric just rep and I know some of the pieces are there, but I think that the goal is to create a world and then have a mediator do that.

Cleric is decent.

I have started down the path of creating characters I want to work with - at first I wanted to develop a place, but I kept thinking "what is change?"

I recently felt into Peter Crane's videos of transformation and it was very perspective.

I think my previous iterations in the cleric journey came from a place of wanting to align myself with strong ideals and wash away my shame and suffering because I would know God's plan and have a role to play.

I think Yuri Sakagawa was a little piece in the beginning of discarding discipline as a rigid expectation that others have.

Peter Crane popularizes his ideas through various means.

I too can run programs to help people through my ideas.

Another thing that has informed my new direction is the life programs and research coordinator. I recently interviewed for an internship and I felt that feeling of what would I do if I didn't need to make money and that felt right.

A third thing that has informed my new direction is Tracy Held. I recently started working with a fundraising consultant and she asked me a bunch of questions related to the kind of work I want to make and the minimum budget, etc.

I created a new program coordinator document and she's reviewing it and I like the clarity of having it all in a little book that I can get feedback on and move forward with more ease.

- 1) Peter Crane said "Nothing is wrong with you."
- 2) Paula Hertel informed me for a beautiful job
- 3) Thought partner validated the directive Tracy Held

I just reached out to someone about helping me organize my closets and it said

Is said 0/0 when I checked on it, but for a moment, I thought I scored some points.

The world building program that involves a cleric to help bring in the evidence into an interface with that world.

I'm still really liking the new characters and it is what I know.

{ miss notes? }
she helps the memory patient, you by taking notes, she provides value by documenting conversations, gratitude, pain points and putting it into the networked folder.

He weighs you to make sure you're getting enough to eat (but not too much) is the premise that you wake up and now you're a cat and you don't remember anything else? (You are the memory patient)

< mister programs >
let me help you get to the sessions you would most enjoy.

< 3 Porciss Pillows >
I'm about cornies and sweetness. Do you have known flowers? How's your bleeding? Positive Affirmations?

+ Cat Daddy +
resident Goth, some kind of Nihilist, also very wealthy, is it a secret that he's the benefactor?

? MISC-KERS ?
I'm a can-do kind of cat. Sometimes life is random and we need a miscellaneous moment - put it with me and it's safe.

(Why is he Irish?)
If you could print anything what would you print?
Stories, lists, tutorials, etc.
Please tell me you have an idea for a chap book or a manifesto. Please, please.
